CSCSB RATES HIGH IN STUDENT RETENTION SURVEY COVERING 1970-73

Many happy returns are made by CSCSB students as they re-register for each succeeding quarter.

According to figures released in a survey conducted by H. J. Soeters, Dean of Admissions and Records at Cal State, Sonoma, the student retention rate at CSCSB is equal to or better than any of the other 18 California State University and Colleges.

Using figures of students continuing from Spring to Fall over the period of 1970-73, CSCSB rose from a slightly below average of 66% retention rate in 1970 to the third highest, 78%, in 1971; highest with 80% in 1972 and climbed in 1973 to a high of 81%. Closest were San Luis Obispo and Pomona with 75% retention that year.

Over the same four-year period the percentage of students returning in the Spring Quarter from the preceding term to the CSCSB campus was 93% in 1970, the highest percentage equalled only by San Luis Obispo; 94% in 1971, the highest on all 19 campuses; 92% in 1972, second to Humboldt's 93%. In 1973 the College shared an 89% rate with Dominguez Hills, bested only by San Luis Obispo's 92% retention rate.
